

Bareiss BSA II Test Stands for Manual Operation of Durometers

- Description • The Bareiss test stand is determined for series of measurements and serves for picking up the manual hardness testers acc. to Shore - both, mechanical and digital types
- The pick-up device of the test stand allows a quick and easy clamping of the hardness tester
  - Image shows BS 61 II test stand in connection with the HPE II (sold separately)

Image(s) are representative of the product group and not necessarily the individual product.

No options of this product are available.